

I MUST CONFESS

*God said "No," but man said "Yes."
And thus began our present mess;
All frustration, sin and stress;
When will it end? I must confess.*

*The world was filled with sin's excess.
An ark of wood...who'd ever guess?
Yet still, did man God's patience press!
When will it end? I must confess.*

*The first world gone...now God can bless!
Restore to earth His righteousness!
But God said "No," and man said "Yes."
When will it end? I must confess.*

*O' wicked man, without success,
Your foolish ways you still express;
But you'll not ever God impress,
Until, by faith, your sins confess!*

Dr. Steven C. Wygle
Los Angeles, California
8-22-1981