

THE EYES OF GOD

*For every sin that's done in view,
The secret sins are done by two.
For every sin that's done in sight,
There's twice that number done by night.*

*For men think they can go unseen,
If in their mind or dark they scheme.
But what they fail to comprehend,
It's not on light God's eyes depend.*

*For when they think that no one knows,
And try their best to not expose;
We hear God say, without a doubt,
"Be sure your sins will find you out."*

*You see, what we must learn for sure,
Is, unlike men's, God's sight is pure.
He cannot let things pass His eyes,
Though done by day or night-time skies.*

*Else, what kind of Judge is He;
Who more than half, He did not see?
And how are we to trust His grace,
If secret things He cannot trace?*
